

SolarTech Power Solutions

Constant speed variable frequency wind power generation system

Overview

The WP system based on power electronic technology realizes VSCF operation, using full power frequency conversion or partial power frequency conversion equipment to make the changing rotor speed and constant grid frequency independent of each other, which can better meet the basic needs of the current WE industry.

Constant speed variable frequency wind power generation system

Contact Us

For catalog requests, pricing, or partnerships, please visit:
<https://zegrzynek.pl>