Overview

In alignment with the GCC Customs Union, Qatar imposes a 5% ad valorem tariff on the value of cost, insurance and freight (CIF) invoice of general cargo goods, excluding those exempted by law provisions. The tariff may also include a fixed amount levied on each unit of the goods. How does Qatar regulate import & export?

In Qatar, engaging in import and export activities is governed by a robust licensing framework designed to ensure compliance with national laws and international trade standards. Any business wishing to undertake import or export operations must secure the appropriate licenses issued by the relevant authorities.

Why do Qatar impose tariffs on imports & exports?

In Qatar, the imposition of tariffs and duties on imports and exports serves as a crucial mechanism for regulating international trade and generating revenue for the government. Tariffs are essentially taxes applied to goods brought into the country, and they can vary significantly based on the type of goods being imported.

How does Qatar's customs system work?

Qatar's customs framework is structured to facilitate efficient trade through well-defined processes and duty tariffs. Central to this system is Al Nadeeb, an advanced digital platform that simplifies import and export procedures, ensuring seamless operations for businesses.

How does Qatar comply with international trade regulations?

Engaging in import and export activities in Qatar necessitates strict adherence to regulatory compliance requirements designed to maintain order and security in trade. Traders must ensure that they possess the appropriate registrations, licenses, and certifications before engaging in international commerce.

Are there duties on exports in Qatar?

There are no duties on exports. Imports in Q3 2024 was QAR30.1 bn, mainly from Asia. Importers of goods into Qatar must sign up to the Importers' Register and be approved by Qatar Chamber (QC). Customs duty and legalisation fees are levied on all commercial shipments, irrespective of its value.

Does Qatar impose a 5% ad valorem tariff?

In alignment with the GCC Customs Union, Qatar imposes a 5% ad valorem tariff on the value of cost, insurance and freight (CIF) invoice of general cargo goods, excluding those exempted by law provisions.
