Overview

Is Romania's battery storage market ready for takeoff?

Romania's battery storage market is gaining momentum, but it's not yet ready for takeoff. A recent Aurora Energy Research report reveals strong investor interest and promising early projects, but also highlights some regulatory gaps and unclear market access.

What is Romania's largest battery project?

Leading the development is Nova Power & Gas, part of the Romanian E-Infra Group, which has unveiled plans for the nation's largest battery project to date. The company will build a 400 MWh facility in Florești, Cluj county, which is expected to be operational by the end of 2025.

Is Romania a promising battery market in southeastern Europe?

With roughly 100 MW of operational capacity — mostly pilot projects run by a few companies — the market is still nascent. Yet Romania now is one of the most promising battery capacity market in Southeastern Europe, said Filippos Falieros, Advisory Project Leader with Aurora Energy Research. What sets Romania apart is not infrastructure, but timing.

Who is involved in a Romanian energy project?

The project is part of a wider series of initiatives supported by the Energy Ministry, which also includes other Romanian companies such as Crișana Pro Construct SA, Eco-rec Recycling SRL and Grima Com SRL.

How much money does Romania spend on battery technology?

The total budget allocated to the state aid scheme for battery technology is €75.76 million, with the possibility of extension up to €149.25 million. This investment reflects Romania's strategic interest in developing a sustainable and competitive industry.

Is Romania moving in an ambitious direction?

Romania Is Moving in an Ambitious Direction Although the NECP (National Energy and Climate Plan) sets a conservative target of 1.2 GW of storage by 2030, momentum is building quickly.
